

PRISONERS OF

A VIRTUAL REALITY

Today we can recognize that *“we fed ourselves on dreams of splendour
and grandeur, and ended up consuming distraction, insularity and solitude.*

*We gorged ourselves on networking,
and lost the taste of fraternity.*

*We looked for quick and safe results,
only to find ourselves overwhelmed
by impatience and anxiety.*

*Prisoners of a virtual reality,
we lost the taste and flavour
of the truly real”.*
